SAM PANG CO-HOSTS NOVA 100'S NEW BREAKFAST SHOW CHRISSIE, SAM & BROWNY

Sam Pang is joined by Chrissie Swan and Jonathan Brown on Nova 100's new Melbourne breakfast show Chrissie, Sam & Browny.

A radio and TV presenter, comedian and writer, Sam's dry wit has made him a popular cast member on TEN's Have You Been Paying Attention. He also appears on Friday Front Bar on AFL.com.au, has been co-host of SBS's The Eurovision Song Contest for the past seven years and was part of the Agony series on the ABC.

With a passion for sport, Sam co-hosted Channel Seven's Santo, Sam and Ed's Sports Fever and was co-creator of Kane & Disabled, a 10 part comedy series featuring some of Australia's best Paralympians. He was also involved in ABC's nightly coverage of the London 2012 Paralympic Games.

Sam joined Melbourne's independent radio station Triple R to present a unique take on weekly sporting news and soon became co-host of The Breakfasters for the next five years.

In 2008 Sam wrote, co-directed and appeared in the short film Alone Together which screened at the Melbourne International Film Festival and has written numerous TV shows and projects including TV Burp, ADbc and Santo, Sam and Ed's Cup Fever.

A talented writer, Sam has written for presenters for the 2008 and 2009 AFI Awards and the 2009 Australian Nickelodeon Kids Choice Awards.

Sam joined Chrissie Swan and Jonathan Brown on Nova 100's new breakfast show in January 2016.
